

Welcome to Health Tutor

Health Tutor is a website dedicated to all people who are interested in practical medicine. Information about common diseases, pathological symptoms, examination procedures and treatment methods are written in form of articles interconnected by hyperlinks. The issues are intentionally made very simple, so they can be comprehended even by curious laymen. We hope you will like this web and that it will bring you a lot of enlightenment and entertainment.

This web includes:

- information about more than 120 basic symptoms
- information about more than 480 common diseases
- information about more than 60 basic examination methods
- information about more than 75 therapeutic methods and medications
- easy online ECG course with over 50 ECG pathologies
- more than 30 ECG stripes from clinical practice